

Why Go To An Acne Clinic

The most logical choice for an acne sufferer is to seek a medical doctor, usually a dermatologist, to help them get rid of their acne. Unfortunately after a number of visits and attempts at prescription products, the acne patient is left frustrated, dejected and desperate to find the answers to this seemingly baffling skin condition.

Most of our clients finally find us after they have seen one (or many) doctors in search of a solution. After coming to the Acne Clinic for a few short months, their skin gets clear and stays clear. What does an acne clinic with no doctors on staff do differently from the medical profession?

1. Doctors have very little time to spend with their patients. They are under a lot of pressure to see as many patients as they can as their overhead (especially malpractice insurance) is very high. It takes time and constant follow-up to get someone's skin clear. We communicate with our acne clients on a regular basis to keep them on track.
2. Most doctors seem to have the same protocol for all of their acne patients. They usually start them with antibiotics and a prescription retinoid. When that stops working (if it ever did) they will try other retinoids (and/or maybe a different antibiotic). And when that fails, they usually turn to isotretinoin (Accutane).
3. Dermatologists treat all aspects of skin, not just acne. Acne is our focus at Face Reality Acne Clinic. We have studied with the world's foremost acne researchers to learn the complex causes and treatments of acne. We have a passion for learning about acne and all aspects of treating it.

As Acne Specialists, we have focused our studies on everything that concerns acneic skin:

1. Ingredients in skin care products that work or not.
2. What environmental factors contribute to inflammation and further breakouts.
3. What foods and/or supplements do and do not make acne worse.
4. What treatments work to get your skin clear.
5. We are constantly doing research and evaluating products, methods and treatments available today.

We strive to give our acne clients all the attention and direction they need to get and keep clear skin. Many of our clients have told us that their doctors didn't know what else to do after their usual protocol didn't work. With our years of experience at clearing skin of acne, we know that it takes using the right products for your type of acne used in the right way.

When you only do one thing, you better do it well. Let us help you get your skin clear and get rid of your acne once and for all.
